FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

LINCOLN, Neb. – Ten Nebraska Army National Guard Soldiers assigned to an Omaha-based Guard unit will be welcomed home this evening following an overseas deployment.

A short welcome home ceremony is tentatively scheduled for 6 p.m. at the Guard's North Omaha Readiness Center located at 11650 Rainwood Road. The ceremony is open to the general public.

The Soldiers are members of the 195th Forward Support Company (Special Operations) (Airborne) Army Special Operations Forces Support Operation Team. While deployed, the Nebraska Army National Guard Soldiers were responsible for coordinating, monitoring and synchronizing Joint/Combined Special Operations Forces logistics requirements within the Special Operations Command Central area of operations.

The Soldiers were initially mobilized in October 2014 and were formally wished farewell during a send-off ceremony at the Guard's Joint Force Headquarters in Lincoln, Neb., on Oct. 31.

Among those expected to attend this evening's welcome home ceremony are Lt. Gov. Mike Foley, U.S. Senators Deb Fischer and Ben Sasse, U.S. Representative Brad Ashford, and Brig. Gen. Rick Dahlman, Nebraska deputy adjutant general.
