Duties

Duties

As a IT SPECIALIST (PLCYPLN), GS-2210-7/9/11, duties include:

1. Information Technology Planning:

(a) Analyzes requirements and recommends plans of action for improving assigned IT applications. Analyzes assigned portions of existing and planned IT applications, both hardware and software, to determine current and future potential for enhancements. Based upon the organization's goals and objectives, an assessment of available resources, and extrapolation of cost benefit analysis data, recommends adjustments to IT priorities to meet changing business needs, program plans, goals and objectives. Identifies problem areas along with a variety of possible solutions and alternatives and submits change recommendations to a higher graded Policy and Plans specialist. Analyzes assigned systems to determine if enhancements are appropriate or if an entirely new system would be more cost effective. Analyzes assigned portions of plans and specifications, prepares justifications for new or enhanced information technology. Provides results of analysis to a higher graded Policy and Plans specialist for inclusion in the Unit's final change recommendations. Serves as a point of contact throughout the various phases of projects until successfully concluded.

(b) Performs as a plans and policy advisor to functional users of information technology. Develops and interprets policy for administering IT systems. Assesses policy needs and reviews, revises, and develops recommended changes to existing policies to govern IT activities. Through feasibility studies, assesses impact of changes in legislation or directives on current programs and recommends changes to existing plans to ensure compliance. Analyzes IT system development as it relates to the organization and ensures policy and guidance are available for its use, that necessary controls are in place, and systems operate as intended and provide all necessary capabilities. Assists in the development of migration plans for implementation of new technology. Assesses and identifies training needs that address activities where gaps in competency exist in either current or new technology. Develops training programs, or locates and recommends sources of training that ensure users can apply the best techniques in using IT. Provides technical assistance to system users and contractors. This includes keeping abreast of the latest developments in technology and conducting feasibility studies to evaluate systems performance as it relates to the organization.

2. Telecommunications Planning: Implements methods, procedures, policies, and techniques concerning telecommunication systems. Performs work involved in developing, refining, and complying with assigned portions of the telecommunications systems planning and D2177P01 policy direction primarily involving short- and long-range plans. Reviews requests for communication services, develops budgetary justifications, recommends changes to assigned segments of networks/systems designs, prepares/reviews equipment and facility specifications, monitors/resolves technical communications problems, and/or conducts operational acceptance tests.

3. General IT and Communications Planning and Resourcing:

(a) Implements IT and communications programs and special projects. Implements various IT and communications programs. Updates documentation and maintains listings of authorized equipment for assigned programs. Performs annual inventories. Performs special staff and/or feasibility studies and economic analysis.

(b) Assists with contracting functions and budget preparation. Upon completion of feasibility studies and other projects designed to identify functional needs and changing business requirements for advancements in technology, prepares budgetary data for inclusion in financial plans in support of assigned programs and projects. Conducts periodic analysis of assigned projects and their funding for consistency with overall IT and communications architecture and infrastructure and how they contribute to meeting business requirements. Develops budget recommendations for use in the Unit's overall budget request. Assists management and senior specialists in developing SOW and PWS (statements of work/performance work specifications) for contracts involving IT and communications systems or service. Reviews completed solicitation packages and provided recommendations to a higher graded Policy and Plans specialist.

4. Adheres to management control plan requirements by conducting self inspection and staff assistance visits. Resolves identified discrepancies.

5. Performs other duties as assigned.
